 - Joint Networks
 - Robust and Flexible
 - Operates within Defense Information Systems Agency Global Information Grid
 - NIPR, SIPR, JWICS
 - TBMCS, GCCS, JADOCS (40 warfighting applications)
- JAOC SIPRNET is the core warfighting enclave Theater Air and Space C2

Mission Enhancement - Training

- Table Top Exercise Training
 - Low-tech, relatively inexpensive
 - Scenario development, participant interaction, issue identification
 - Provides valuable training
 - Incorporated into larger exercises
 - Successfully utilized in Ex PACIFIC LIFELINE 08

Mission Enhancement - Training

■ Live / Virtual / Constructive Training

- Saves fuel, aircraft hours, and reduces ops tempo while still maximizing training opportunities
- Successfully utilized in NORTHERN EDGE 08
- Must invest in:
 - High fidelity simulation
 - Multiple Echelon computer models and game simulations
 - Distributive mission operations to leverage this capability

Mission Enhancement Coalition Interoperability

- Combined Communications Interoperability Program (CCIP)
 - Several nations fielding compatible capabilities
 - Japan, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Malaysia, and Taiwan.
 - Benefits:
 - Leveraging host nation strengths
 - Promoting openness and cooperation
 - Deterrents:
 - Technology expenses
 - Laws and regulations
 - Preference for bilateral vs multilateral relationships

- Reliability and Redundancy of Networks
 - Must have operable COOP plan in place
- Homeland Defense: Zero Defect – only 1 shot
 - Operation Noble Eagle – Homeland Defense
 - Integrated Air and Missile Defense
 - Command and Control nets / Emergency Action Cell
- Munitions control and movement

Threats and Consequences

Fighter Proliferation

- 4th gen fighters being sold around world
 - Russia...Su-30/ & MiG-35/
 - China...F-10 & JF-17
- Electronically scanned intercept radars
- Long-range active radar missiles
- Highly sophisticated advanced jammers
 - Digital Radio Frequency Memory threat
- US legacy fighters at risk—second best?

Terrorism – The Long War

- Al Qa'ida (AQ) remains greatest terrorist threat to US interests worldwide—nature of threat changing
- No longer monolithic threat; leaders providing less direct operational influence, emphasis on propaganda
- Smaller, looser networks proliferating—less, understood, predictable
- Signals Intel / ISR

Advanced SAM Proliferation

- Legacy systems entering larger threat rings than ever before
- Longer-range double digit SAMS
 - SA-10 (49NM), SA-20 (108NM), HQ-9 (81NM)
 - Near future...SA-21 (advertised as 200+ NM)
 - Complicating potential future air ops
 - Taiwan Strait and Middle East
- Naval SAMS
 - Longer ranges pushing out air defense umbrella
 - SA-N-20 / HQ-9
- Detection capabilities also increasing
 - Anti-stealth and anti-cruise missile

Training Gaps

- US Advantage historically both technological & superior training
- Avg Indian, Chinese pilot training now comparable
- Total fighter hours in USAF fighter units continues to drop from historical averages
- Range upgrades to meet realistic 5th Gen training

Conclusion

Past

- Cold War Mentality
- Strategic Reserve
- Hand Me Down Equipment

Present And Future

- Meeting Traditional & Asymmetric Threats
- "State Of The Art" Equipment
- High Operations and Deployment Tempo
 - Joint and Coalition Interoperability
