HOMELAND SECURITY SYMPOSIUM

“The Homeland Security Enterprise: Missions and Priorities During the Next Four Years”

NOVEMBER 13-14, 2012

EVENT #3490 ➤ ARLINGTON, VA ➤ CRYSTAL GATEWAY MARRIOTT
The 2012 Homeland Security Symposium will present an overview of the ongoing challenges associated with large-scale disasters (and their various forms) and the risks, strategies and investments necessary to address these ever-evolving and dynamic threats.

NDIA HOMELAND SECURITY DIVISION

Mission & Purpose
- To provide legal and ethical forums for the exchange of information, ideas and recommendations between industry and government on homeland security issues
- To promote a vigorous, robust and collaborative government-industry homeland security team
- To advocate for best-in-class, high technology equipment, systems, training and support for America’s first responder community

Focus

The Homeland Security Division focuses on the protection and security of the assets, information, facilities and resources of the government, military and private sector organizations which comprise the technological, military and industrial infrastructure of the United States. The Division also provides input and advice to a wide range of agencies and departments of federal, state and local governments and to commercial, industrial and academic institutions.
