Two Key Concepts
Problem Statement: The Nation faces a more complex and ambiguous threat environment than ever before. For the first time in history, we must design the Army to face an enemy that can rapidly adapt to exploit our weaknesses and avoid our strengths.

Changes in the Environment

Threat organization: Many potential adversaries are native to an ambiguous environment and remain indistinguishable from protected populations.

Technology: Adversaries can rapidly translate commercial innovation into military advantage.

Information: Information diffuses rapidly to a global audience leading to unexpected, emergent behaviors in societies.

Societal Expectations: Society increasingly demands Soldiers and leaders to be expert at choosing if to use violence, not just how.

“In the struggle for survival, the fittest win out at the expense of their rivals because they adapt themselves best to their environment.”

-- Charles Darwin
The cognitive demands on the Soldier grow more important as strategic uncertainty grows.

To prepare for an uncertain future, the Army must optimize the performance of every Soldier and leader through innovation and investment in education, training, and leader development.

Optimize Human Performance

LOE#1: Campaign Objective
By 2025, the Army has the tools and capacity to optimize the performance of every Soldier and Civilian in the Total Force.

LOE#2: Campaign Objective
By 2025, the Army implements a realistic training strategy that replicates the complex future operating environment. This strategy progressively builds cohesive teams that can thrive and improve in conditions of uncertainty and chaos.

LOE#3: Campaign Objective
By 2025, Army institutions are able to adjust rapidly to changing requirements in the operating environment allowing them to field integrated DOTMLPF –P solutions to emerging problems in advance of need.

"We cannot expect to capture the imagination of combat-seasoned forces that have been in some of the most complex environments imaginable for almost a decade by sitting them in a classroom and bludgeoning them with PowerPoint slides. We must make the 'scrimmage' as hard as the 'game' in both the institutional schoolhouse and at home station."

-- General Martin E. Dempsey
