12:00 pm - 1:00 pm NETWORKING LUNCHEON - ATRIUM

1:00 pm MULTI-YEAR FUNDING

The multi-year initiative update will highlight tangible benefits multi-year could deliver for selected sustainment programs, specifically addressing best practices, potential impediments and criteria essential for industry and United States government to achieve true cost savings. Multi-year funding will offer predictability and stability, thus allowing for the consistent flow of work that could result in a cost effective outcome. It will incentivize productivity and innovation and foster integrated planning and scheduling in industry and DoD. This initiative will enact more effective and efficient capital investments and long-range planning to achieve maximum readiness at reduced costs.

- ▶ Mr. Roberto Rodriguez, Director for Investment Programs, Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller)
- ▶ Lt Gen Charles Johnson, USAF (Ret), Vice President for Mobility, C3/Networks and Support Systems for Air Force Systems, The Boeing Company

1:45 pm BEST LOGISTICS CONTRACTING PRACTICES TO ACHIEVE OPTIMAL SERVICE OUTCOMES

This panel will explore Defense Logistics Market Best Contracting Practices that are successfully supporting Warfighter Readiness objectives. In addition to a moderated Q&A session with audience participation, panelists will offer insights on where they see opportunities to build upon current successful practices in support of Defense Department requirements.

Moderated by Mr. Vernon Wallace, Director, Mission Support Programs, U.S. Business Development, Raytheon Company

- ▶ Mr. Kenneth Brennan, Deputy Director for Services Acquisitions, Defense Procurement and Acquisition Policy
- ▶ Mr. John Lyle, Associate Deputy Assistant Secretary for Contracting, Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force (Acquisition)

10:45 am MAINTAINING STRATEGIC LOGISTICS CAPABILITY - JCS J-4, USTRANSCOM, DLA

This panel will discuss the challenges faced and initiatives being undertaken to maintain and improve strategic logistics capability in an era of declining resources. Is working capital funding the right mechanism to sustain strategic providers when customers have less to spend? Will industry maintain capability to surge in support of global operations if strategic providers are not purchasing those services? Is it possible to cut overhead without diminishing capability? Is our current strategic infrastructure correctly sized and sited? How can their customers help the strategic providers improve operations and capability?

Moderated by LTG Kathleen Gainey, USA (Ret), Senior Vice President, Logistics, Cypress International

- ▶ Lt Gen Andrew Busch, USAF, Director, Defense Logistics Agency
- ▶ Maj Gen Lee Levy, USAF, Vice Director for Logistics, J4 Logistics Directorate

3:30 pm - 7:00 pm EXHIBITOR MOVE-OUT

3:15 pm SUSTAINING GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT - COCOM 4'S

This panel will discuss the changing nature of COCOM logistics requirements to support U.S. global engagement. Will it be harder to provide logistics support if operations become smaller and more focused on foreign internal defense and counter-terrorism? Can COCOMs maintain technological advancements if OCO funds are no longer available? Urgent operational requirements have driven innovation. Can that pace of change be sustained in the face of resource scarcity? How can DoD strategic logistics providers help improve COCOM logistics responsiveness?

Moderated by Maj Gen Lee Levy, USAF, Vice Director for Logistics, J4 Logistics Directorate
