The NDIA has a policy of strict compliance with federal and state antitrust laws. The antitrust laws prohibit competitors from engaging in actions that could result in an unreasonable restraint of trade. Consequently, NDIA members must avoid discussing certain topics when they are together at formal association membership, board, committee, and other meetings and in informal contacts with other industry members: prices, fees, rates, profit margins, or other terms or conditions of sale (including allowances, credit terms, and warranties); allocation of markets or customers or division of territories; or refusals to deal with or boycotts of suppliers, customers or other third parties, or topics that may lead participants not to deal with a particular supplier, customer or third party.

VENUE MAP

TRIAD

TRIAD Conference, was formed in 1967 to coordinate the efforts of small-business subcontractors in the defense space. It looks to serve the best interests of industry associations, their members, government agencies and the small-business community. TRIAD encourages an open exchange of information and communication that promotes government and industry collaboration and understanding.

TRIAD seeks to meet these goals with its Winter meeting. It's a great opportunity to network and to exchange important information on small and diverse businesses in government contracting, including legislation and rules and changes that affect prime contractors.
